DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

-In regard to claims 2 and 9, it is unclear what 'ultrasound information' refers to (i.e. raw data, the up sampled data, 3D data, 2D data, etc). Similarly in claims 5, 6, 13, 16, and 19, the 'ultrasound image information' or 'ultrasound information' is not specified.

-In regard to claims 5 and 12, it is unclear what is meant by stating that the "image information is at least one of two dimensional solids and three dimensional volumes." Does this refer to the objects that are imaged?

-Claim 16 is unclear because the claim states that the probe creates 3D information and also that the processor converts some other type of information to 3D information, as well.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 8-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. In addition to inquiry of whether a claimed method falls within a judicial exception, Supreme Court precedent (Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780,787-88 (1876).) and recent Federal Circuit decisions, require that a claim drawn to a process must (1) be tied to another statutory class (such as a particular apparatus) or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or materials) to a different state or thing. If neither of these requirements is met by the claim, the method is not a patent eligible process under 35 U.S.C. 101 and is improperly directed to nonstatutory subject matter. Thus, to qualify as a 35 U.S.C. 101 statutory process, the claim should positively recite the other statutory class (the thing or product) to which it is tied or positively recite the subject matter that is being transformed. As claims 8-14 are not tied to another statutory class, nor do they positively recite subject matter being transformed, they are improperly directed to nonstatutory subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mochizuki (US 6,263,093).

Mochizuki discloses a method and apparatus for 3D ultrasound image processing including a 3D ultrasound probe 10 for acquiring 3D data and display 40 for displaying data. The reception signal (echo data) in the form of two-dimensional data is read out from line memories 22A, 22B and are then input into a line interpolation section 23, which produces one or more of 3D interpolation data. By performing this line interpolation, the number of the ultrasound beams can be increased such that it is possible to improve the resolution of the 3D image (col 9, lines 27-44; see Figure 1). The interpolated 2D data produced in interpolation section 23 is then stored in memories 24A, 24B, after which frame interpolation section 30 interpolates between the adjacent frames. 3D memory 32 is then used to store data output from the frame interpolation section 30 (col 10, lines 35-48).
